NOSE

Savory and Herbaceous

Hints of dried crushed violet and blackberry unfold with notes of dried fig, sweet oak, and a touch of savory earth. Elegant when given time to open in the glass, the bouquet is layered with a quiet complexity and understated minerality.

PALATE

Long and Lean

This fruit focused Merlot's the palate is structured, with flavors of dried fig, blackberry, leather, and black tea. A more pronounced thread of acidity alongside refined tannins creates a long, more linear profile, while hints of dried herbs carry through a lingering finish. The longer it sits in the glass, the more it has to offer.
